Do you ever wonder if your child is too connected too much of the time? Are they being safe? Kathy Slattengren will speak on “Parenting the Digital Child: Setting Limits and Teaching Responsibility in a Connected World”. Kathy is an internationally recognized parenting educator and founded Priceless Parenting in 2007. Her talk will cover how to teach your children about the new responsibilities and potential dangers that come with the digital world they live in, setting limits and more.
